Ashton McLeod is a defensive defenceman. His game is based on his defensive ability and decision making as he is not a physically imposing defenceman. Aston plays a good positional game in the defensive zone whether at even strength or on the penalty kill. Although not a huge offensive threat, Ashton does get shots from the point through to the net. Ashton also possesses good speed and hockey sense. An area that Ashton could look to improve would be his puck-handling and work with the puck in general. Being more confident when he has the puck is important for Ashton to reduce turnovers and missed pass attempts.
