Sam Johnson is a solid two way forward who has average speed and is quite defensively responsible. Sam blocks shots and plays the defensive zone well. Sam is relied on to play the point on 4 on 4 situations and well as well his team pulls their goalie late in games. Sam gets quite a bit of penalty kill and power play time. His face-off ability is one of Sam's strengths, as he wins approximately 80% of the draws that he takes. Offensively Sam is a natural scorer with a quick release wrist shot. Sam is also strong on the puck for the most part but can work on his consistency here. Another area that Sam could improve on is his physical play. He shows the potential he just needs to be more aggressive. This should come more naturally and he adds weight to his frame.
