Physical Description (Injuries, Glasses, etc.) GRADUATION 2025

No injuries or Glasses. Long waisted with long arms and long slender legs. A pure athlete with quick twitch muscles, very skinny looks and plays like a young Dee, Strange-Gordon, and needs to add good weight without sacrificing dynamic movement. Tall but not an imposing figure but a well-rounded strong, athlete.

Abilities

Has an above average throwing arm from short stop. Has easy fielding actions with good range both ways. Turns double plays effortlessly. Has lift with the bat, quick-twitch movement, explosive hands; present strength in lower half, fast 6.7,6.8 but has the potential to outgrow present speed. Versatile can play the outfield with ease. A center-field future; above-average range for center, speed and athleticism helps make up for inconsistent first step, average reads; athleticism would play up well in corner; still developing baserunning skills easily his best tool and shows a great feel, high projection of on base and stills.

Weaknesses

Needs more power, plane can get inconsistent and loop to cause pop-ups; advanced tracking and pitch recognition, framework for 30 hits this HS season, but inconsistent plane slightly hinders contact. Uncertain about playing short at higher levels, looks hard, and footwork needs refinement, his speed makes up for it, fringe overall skill set at shortstop.

Summation and Signability Worth 50,000/60,000 Will He Sign YES Will Sign For 55,000

Above average high school athlete. His premium athleticism is the upside on all his projected future potential, has all the tools to become a major leaguer. Currently a HS junior, with several institutions looking at him. Would do well in minor A, now. I would like to select him in the fifth round if available.
