FOOTBALL CAREER CONFERENCE SPEAKERS

Dr. Lynn Lashbrook, SMWW President & NFL Agent

Dr. Lynn Lashbrook is President and Founder of Sports Management Worldwide, the first online sports management school, and a respected voice in the sports business community, often serving as a field expert in publications such as Sports Illustrated, ESPN the Magazine, Reuters and Sports Business International.

As an active NFL Agent Dr. Lashbrook has personally represented over 150 NFL players including 9-time Pro Bowler Brian Dawkins, 31st draft pick Alex Van Dyke and former first rounder Mark Fields. Dr. Lashbrook co-represents NFL Kansas City Chief's QB Matt Moore with graduates of the SMWW Athlete Management Course. SMWW Agency, an international full service sports agency, under Dr. Lashbrook's leadership, represents professional athletes in a variety of major and minor leagues.

Dr. Lashbrook has served at the collegiate level as a coach, scout, recruiter, athletic academic advisor, compliance officer and athletic director. In professional sports, in addition to his work as an NFL certified agent, he helped save Providence Park stadium in Portland, home of the Timbers, and has worked tirelessly to bring Major League Baseball to Portland.

An accomplished speaker, Dr. Lashbrook has spoken on five of seven continents in addition to hosting and moderating SMWW career conferences at major sporting events across the nation. SMWW offers a global sports education via online courses and audio chats, taught by pillars of the sports industry. SMWW graduates currently work in every major sports league in the world, including the NFL, NHL, MLB, NBA, Rugby, Cricket, MLS and the English Premier League.

Dr. Lashbrook is respected in the sports industry for his ethical compass, integrity and puns! We encourage you to introduce yourself to Dr. Lashbrook. He loves meeting people! Twitter: @SMWW, #SMWW2020

Matt Moore, Kansas City Quarterback

When Matt signed with SMWW, Lynn advised Matt that he might not be drafted, but that SMWW would do everything they could to promote him. Matt was not invited to the Combine, nor was he drafted. SMWW quickly negotiated an opportunity with the Dallas Cowboys. After being put on waivers, Matt was picked up by the Carolina Panthers. In Matt's first year in the NFL he started three games with Carolina and was named NFL Offensive Rookie of the Month. After 3 seasons with the Panthers, Matt played 7 seasons with the Miami Dolphins.

After retiring in the 2018 season, Matt participated in the Football GM & Scouting Course and started scouting for the Miami Dolphins. Last year, for the first time, Matt attended the NFL Combine as a Scout and spoke at this NFL Combine Conference. In August, KC Head Coach Andy Reid personally called Matt and asked him to come out of retirement as backup quarterback to Patrick Mahomes.

On October 17, 2019 with only 6 weeks of practice, Moore took over as the Chiefs QB after Mahomes injured his knee. Moore started the next 2 games. Moore's performance against the Vikings will always be remembered as it gave the Chiefs the home field advantage to go on to win the Super Bowl. Moore served as backup quarterback in the Chiefs first Super Bowl appearance since Super Bowl IV in 1970, clinching the win against the San Francisco 49ers with a score of 31-20 in Super Bowl LIV.

Salli Clavelle, San Francisco 49ers Pro Personnel Analyst

Salli Clavelle is in her second season with the 49ers and first as a pro personnel analyst. As a scouting assistant with 49ers in 2018, Clavelle assisted the college and pro scouting departments in their evaluation of NFL talent. On the college side, she assisted evaluating talent, attended college games, watched film on draft prospects, created draft cut-ups and attended All-Star events. Clavelle assisted the pro personnel department with updating the free-agent boards, creating cut-ups on prospective free agents and maintaining the free agent database. Twitter: @SalliClavelle

FOOTBALL CAREER CONFERENCE SPEAKERS

Joel Corry, CBSsports.com Writer, and SMWW Faculty

Joel was a Sports Agent for 16 years, representing NFL & NBA players. In 1992 at Management Plus Enterprises, who represented top-level athletes including Ronnie Lott, Hakeem Olajuwon, and Shaquille O'Neal. Joel left Management Plus in 1995 to co-found Premier Sports and Entertainment, which focused on representing NFL players, college and NFL coaches. He was the primary and co-negotiator of numerous NFL player contracts, including Hall of Famer John Randle's 5-year, $32.5 million contract with the Minnesota Vikings (1998), Patrick Surtain's 6-year, $44.63 million contract with the Kansas City Chiefs (2005), which made Patrick the highest-paid player in the franchise's history. Randle's contract made him the NFL's highest-paid defensive player with unprecedented guarantees that have become the norm in the most lucrative NFL contracts. Other Premier clients included Pro Bowlers Eric Allen, Keenan McCardell and Jimmy Smith. Joel served as a consultant with Management Plus for several years after starting Premier. As a consultant, he played an integral part in the negotiation of Shaquille O'Neal's Los Angeles Lakers contracts ($120 million over 7 years & subsequent 3-year, $88.3 million extensions). In 2012, Joel became a contributing writer for the National Football Post. He uses his NFL salary cap and collective bargaining agreement knowledge to provide a perspective on player salaries, contract negotiations and the salary cap that is rarely seen in the media. In 2013, Joel began writing for CBSSports.com on similar topics, but for a larger audience. Joel also appears regularly on radio shows, including SiriusXM NFL Radio. Twitter: @corryjoel

If you want to be a Sports Agent meet Joel Corry! Take the SMWW Athlete Management course and the Football Certification course to successfully pass the NFLPA exam.

Mark Dominik, NFL TV Analyst, former Tampa Bay Buccaneers GM, and SMWW Faculty

Mark Dominik is a TV Analyst who has worked with ESPN NFL Network and Fox Sports. Mark also has a weekly show on Sirius XM NFL Radio. Most recently, Mark was the Tampa Bay Buccaneers GM from 2009 through 2013. Mark contributed to seven playoff appearances and four division titles for the Bucs. Dominik quickly gained a reputation as one of the NFL's top talent evaluators, with a keen aptitude for finding late-round gems, in addition to fully utilizing the "second draft"—bringing in rookie contributors through undrafted free agency, scouring the waiver wire and opposing teams' practice squads.

Dominik joined the Buccaneers' staff at the young age of 24 as a pro personnel assistant. He served in that capacity through the 1997 season, before assuming the title of pro scout in 1998 and coordinator of pro personnel in 2000. Prior to the start of the 2001 season, Dominik began the first of his eight years as Tampa Bay's Director of Pro Personnel. In 2002, Dominik helped guide the Buccaneers to their first world championship in Super Bowl XXXVII against Oakland. As Director of Pro Personnel, his duties included overseeing the scouting, recruiting and signing efforts of all NFL players, while also monitoring NFL transactions and overseeing player tryouts. He was also in charge of the Pro Personnel department's evaluation of players in all other professional football leagues, including the Canadian Football League and the Arena Football League, while being responsible for the negotiation and signing of contracts for several free agents and NFL Draft signings. Dominik joined Tampa Bay after spending a year and a half working in both the college and pro personnel departments of the Kansas City Chiefs. Dominik holds a BS degree in Sports Management from the University of Kansas. Twitter: @MarkDominikESPN

Doug Farrar, Sports Illustrated NFL Writer

Sports Illustrated NFL writer and Seattle resident Doug Farrar started writing about football in 2002 and became Football Outsiders' West Coast NFL guy in 2006. He was fascinated by FO's idea to combine Bill James with Dr. Z, and wrote for the site for six years. He wrote a game-tape column called "Cover-2" for a number of years, and contributed to six editions of "Pro Football Prospectus" and the "Football Outsiders Almanac." In 2009, Doug was invited to join Yahoo Sports' NFL team and covered Senior Bowls, scouting combines, Super Bowls, and all sorts of other things for Yahoo Sports and the Shutdown Corner blog through June 2013. He became the site's editor in 2010.

Doug received the proverbial offer he couldn't refuse from SI.com in 2013, and that was that. Doug has also written for the Seattle Times, the Washington Post, the New York Sun, FOX Sports, ESPN.com, and ESPN The Magazine. He also makes regular appearances on several local and national radio shows and has hosted several podcasts and radio shows over the years. He counts Dan Jenkins, Thomas Boswell, Frank Deford, Ralph Wiley, and Bill Simmons as the writers who made him want to do this for a living. Twitter: @NFL_DougFarrar

Eric Galko, XFL Director of Player Personnel

Eric Galko graduated from University of Delaware Business School and Villanova University School of Law. He has worked as a football consultant for over 10 years, working with professional teams, NFL agencies, sports attorneys start-up football leagues, in major media for Sporting News and Bleacher Report, as well as many others. He currently acts as the XFL League's Director of Player Personnel. Twitter: @EricGalko

Ray Haija, MGA Sports Agency NFL Agent, SMWW Alumni

Ray Haija is a certified NFL and CFL agent having spent over a decade in the agency business working with professional athletes in both the NFL and CFL.

Prior to and during his work as an agent, Ray has been a successful entrepreneur and has served as a business development consultant in his work with domestic and international start-up firms.

Ray has also had a 10-year career as a University Professor at various universities across the country, including the University of Hawaii and Pacific University. At Pacific University where he was on the faculty, he was also part of the Boxer's NCAA Division III football coaching staff.

Ray holds a Ph.D. from Virginia Tech, a Master's degree from Harvard University, an MBA from Roehampton University in London, and a BS degree from Colorado State University. Twitter: @RayHaija

Greg Hylton, Indianapolis Colts Vice President Ticket Sales

Russ Lande, GM Jr. Founder and SMWW Faculty

With over 20 years of scouting experience in the NFL, CFL, and XFL, Russ Lande provides great perspective into the ins and outs of professional scouting. Beginning his scouting career as a part-time unpaid recruiting intern with the UCLA Bruins at just 22 years old, Lande eventually got paid for his hard work, becoming a scouting administrator with the Los Angeles Rams in 1994. After four years with the Rams, Lande began delving into the publishing and media side of scouting, founding GM Jr. Scouting, crafting an annual NFL draft guide, consulting with CBS Sports and eventually writing for the Sporting News, National Football Post and Sports on Earth. Lande spent four years as the Midwest Blesto scout with the Cleveland Browns and six years Scouting Director for the Montreal Alouettes. Currently with the Calgary Stampede. Twitter: @RUSSLANDE

Josh Liskiewitz, Pro Football Focus, and SMWW Alumni

Josh has been intellectually invested in the sport as long as he can remember but didn't get his start in football until taking SMWW's Football GM and Scouting course in 2007. After his class, he wrote hundreds of scouting reports independently on 2008 and 2009 NFL draft prospects and cultivated a solid rapport with Russ Lande. Russ eventually invited him to join his team at GM Jr. Scouting, to which Josh contributed hundreds of scouting reports and wrote All-Star game practice recaps. In 2015 Josh joined Pro Football Focus, a company owned by NBC Sunday Night NFL color analyst Cris Collinsworth, which grades every player on every play of every NFL, FBS and AAF game. PFF provides advanced analytics to all 32 NFL teams and many of the top NCAA teams. Josh is currently the high school operations manager for PFF.

Dei Lynam, Veteran Sports Reporter, SMWW Faculty

Growing up in a sports family provided Dei Lynam career focus from an early age. Her father Jim, was a coach in college and pro, most notably as head coach of the Philadelphia 76ers and then Washington Bullets in the 1980s and 90s.

But it was Jim's first assistant job in the NBA that gave Dei the bug for the sports industry. When he was named an assistant coach with the Portland Trail Blazers, Dei, just 15 years old, began working with the Blazers production crew, holding the mic in team huddles. She was hooked!

Since those teenage years, Dei's career has flourished. Executive producer for NBA Entertainment, sports anchor, sideline reporter, analyst, radio host - she has done it all. For 20 years she was a fixture with the Philadelphia 76ers as a sideline reporter for Comcast Sportsnet Philadelphia, building relationships with some of the most iconic stars in the NBA stage including Kobe Bryant, Allen Iverson, and Charles Barkley. Twitter: @dlynamCSN

Paraag Marathe, San Francisco 49ers President

Paraag Marathe is in his 19th year with the 49ers, currently serving as both President of 49ers Enterprises & Executive Vice President of Football Operations.

On the team side, Marathe continues in his long-respected role as the team's chief contract negotiator and salary cap architect, while overseeing the team's football analytics department, among other football duties. He is responsible for the 49ers compliance with the NFL's collective bargaining agreement and works alongside general manager John Lynch and head coach Kyle Shanahan on all aspects of the club's football operations.

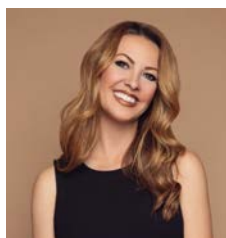

Within 49ers Enterprises, Marathe oversees outside business ventures, advisory efforts, and major investment opportunities for the club. Marathe recently led the effort by 49ers Enterprises to purchase a minority ownership stake in Leeds United Football Club of the English Championship League. Marathe holds a seat on the Leeds United Board of Directors as part of the investment designed to help the historic club earn promotion to the Premier League. Backed by the 49ers in the 2018-19 season, Leeds fell just shy of promotion, advancing to the Championship play-off semi-final.

While serving as 49ers team president from 2014-16 and COO from 2010-13, Marathe supervised the development of Levi's Stadium and helped bring to life the vision of an unparalleled fan experience at the venue. Using the Bay Area as inspiration, the club focused on bringing technology, sustainability, and culture to the stadium experience. His leadership was critical during the club's transition from Candlestick Park to Levi's Stadium, as he set the vision and hired many of the current executive team members. He also played a critical role on the small team that founded and incubated VenueNext, a technology company that is setting new standards for the live event experience.

Marathe has played an integral role in rebuilding the 49ers current roster, negotiating contract extensions in recent years with a number of key players, including QB Jimmy Garoppolo and T Joe Staley. Additionally, Marathe's work during free agency has helped to land accomplished veteran players, such as All-Pro CB Richard Sherman, Pro Bowlers DL Dee Ford (trade/extension), FB Kyle Juszyk and CB Jason Verrett, as well as LB Kwon Alexander. Over the years, Marathe has consistently kept the club in a competitive salary cap position.

Marathe's Bay Area roots run deep, having received his bachelor's degree with high honors from the Haas School of Business at the University of California-Berkeley and his MBA from Stanford University's Graduate School of Business.

Beyond the 49ers, Marathe was named the Chairman of USA Cricket in October 2018 and moved quickly to ensure USA Cricket earned recognition by the International Cricket Council (ICC) as the organization's 105th member and develop a world-class T20 professional cricket league in the United States. He is also actively involved in the Bay Area community with organizations and causes that are personally important to him. He currently sits on the Board of Directors for Andrea's Voice and Project HEAL, two nonprofits that are focused on bringing awareness and funding, respectively, for fighting eating disorders. He serves on the Board of the Sequoia Hospital Foundation, where both of his daughters were born. Marathe is also a Lecturer at Stanford's Graduate School of Business, co-teaching two courses: Sports Business Investment and Negotiations. In 2015, Marathe was selected as a member of the Sports Business Journal's Forty Under 40 class. Twitter: @49ers

Kelli Masters, KMM Sports President, and Owner, NFLPA Agent

Kelli Masters is the owner and president of KMM Sports and is an NFLPA certified contract advisor. She has represented players in contract negotiations and endorsement deals since 2006 and was the first woman to ever represent a 1st Round Pick in the NFL Draft. She has also practiced Business Litigation since 2000 with the law firm of Fellers, Snider, Blankenship, Bailey & Tippens, P.C., and is a noted speaker and author. Kelli has a heart for charitable work and is a recognized expert on nonprofit law and charitable foundations. Kelli has developed a solid reputation and a vast network of professional relationships including coaches, owners, managers, and scouts from all 32 NFL Clubs, as well as the NFLPA. Kelli's clients include Blake Jarwin of the Dallas Cowboys, Alex Collins of the Baltimore Ravens, Tress Way of the Washington Redskins and other NFL players, as well as Olympic bobsledder Aja Evans and athletes in a variety of sports. Twitter: @KMMsports

Zack Moore is a former college football player at the University of Rhode Island. He received his MBA from Rutgers Business School and has written for Over The Cap since 2014. He is the author of Caponomics: Building Super Bowl Champions, which offers insight into how teams use data and analytics to create sustainable, competitive teams through the salary cap that are capable of competing for championships. Zack's research has appeared on various platforms including ESPN, Sports Illustrated, Bleacher Report, USA Today, and the NFL Network. Zack is also a 2015 Football Career Conference Attendee. Twitter: @ZackMooreNFL

Jen Mueller - Seattle Seahawks Sideline Reporter

Jen Mueller, America's Expert Talker, is rarely at a loss for words. She pursued a career in sports broadcasting after repeated comments of "talks too much" from teachers and family members.

An 18-year sports broadcasting veteran, Jen currently serves as the Seattle Seahawks sideline radio reporter, a role she's held for 10 seasons. She's also been part of the Seattle Mariners television broadcast team on ROOT Sports for 12 seasons.

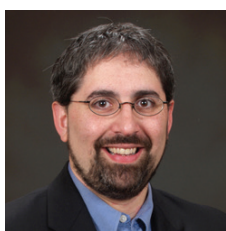

In addition to her work on the sidelines, Jen launched Talk Sporty to Me in 2009 and provides a unique and practical approach to business communication. Jen shows business professionals how to apply the same conversation strategies she uses in sports locker rooms to business settings, so they can become more confident and effective communicators. Jen is the author of three books. The most recent book, The Influential Conversationalist: Conversation skills that develop leadership potential was published in October 2017.

A lifelong sports fan, Jen is also a former high school football official, a passion she discovered while attending Southern Methodist University. Jen graduated from SMU in 2000 with degrees in broadcast journalism and public policy. Twitter: @TalkSportyToMe

Steve Palazzolo, Pro Football Focus Senior Analyst

After an 8-year career as a minor league baseball player, Steve joined Pro Football Focus' part-time staff in 2011 before moving to a full-time role in 2012. He moved to a senior analyst role in 2013 and wears many hats at PFF including that of an analyst, writer, and general liaison with NFL team customers. His work has also been featured on ESPN Insider. Steve is a believer that right tackles are just as important as left tackles and that "right-tackle only" prospect is really just guards. Twitter: @PFF_Steve

Aaron Schatz, Football Outsiders Almanac Founder, and SMWW Faculty

Aaron Schatz launched the revolution in football analytics when his website FootballOutsiders.com went online in July 2003. He remains editor-in-chief and head statistician for that website as well as the book series Football Outsiders Almanac. In addition, he writes for ESPN.com Insider and ESPN The Magazine, and during the 2011 season was a regular panelist on the ESPN2 show Numbers Never* Lie. He has written for a number of publications including The New Republic, The New York Times, and The Boston Globe, and has consulted for a number of NFL teams. Before Football Outsiders, Aaron spent five years on the radio at WBRU Providence and WKRO Daytona Beach, and three years as the writer and producer of the Lycos 50, the Internet's foremost authority on the people, places, and things that are searched online. Twitter: @FO_ASchatz

Adam Schefter, ESPN NFL Insider

Schefter was born to a Jewish family in Valley Stream, New York, and grew up in Bellmore, New York, where he attended John F. Kennedy High School, graduating in June 1985. He is a 1989 graduate of the University of Michigan and a graduate of Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism.

Schefter was an editor at The Michigan Daily, where he began his newspaper career. While at Northwestern, Schefter worked as a freelance reporter for the Chicago Tribune. After graduating from Northwestern in June 1990, Schefter was an intern for the Seattle Post-Intelligencer before moving to Denver in 1990, when he started writing for the Rocky Mountain News in September 1990 and then The Denver Post in July 1996.

Schefter joined the NFL Network in 2004 and appeared on NFL Total Access and also wrote for NFL.COM. Before joining the NFL Network, Schefter appeared five times on ESPN's Around the Horn as a substitute for Woody Paige, who was based in Denver at the time. Before Around the Horn, Schefter appeared on ESPN's The Sports Reporters. Schefter appeared on NBC twice in the summer of 2008, working as the sideline reporter for Al Michaels and John Madden during the Redskins-Colts Hall-of-Fame game and then the Redskins-Jaguars preseason finale.

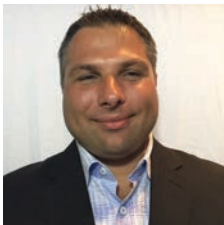

According to a USA Today survey of fans published January 19, 2009, "NFL Network's Adam Schefter edged ESPN's Chris Mortensen (34%-32%) for best [NFL] insider despite the NFL Network being in less than half as many U.S. households." Schefter was again selected as the best (NFL) insider in a November 2010 USA Today fan poll. Schefter was voted USA Today's best "insider" for a third straight year in November 2011.

In 2009, Schefter became a football analyst with ESPN. He began appearing on-air on August 17, 2009. In October 2010, Sports Illustrated writers included Schefter in its "Power 40", a listing of the NFL's best officials, executives, coaches, players, and media members.

In February 2014, New York magazine selected Schefter as the "Most Influential Tweeter in NY."

In May 2014, the website Awful Announcing selected Schefter as the "Best Newsbreaker" in its second annual People's Sports TV Award Winners. SI.com named Schefter the 2014 "Media Person of the Year." In November 2015, Schefter was named The Synopsis Sports Media Personality of the Year, which is presented annually to a VIP whose work in the sports industry has transcended how sports connect with fans.

Named honorable mention for Sports Illustrated Now's 2015 Media Person of the Year. Named 2015 Sports Media Personality of the Year by Tampa Bay Times. Twitter: @AdamSchefter

Ric Serritella, NFL Draft Bible Founder

Established in 2002, NFL Draft Bible Founder Ric Serritella began his independent scouting service as a publication used by all 32 NFL teams. Eventually, it would evolve into an online scouting resource that reaches millions of people each month. An early adaptor to technology, the NFL Draft Bible produced the first-ever live stream video show and live podcast on location from the NFL Draft. The NFL Draft Bible network extends to professional football leagues all over the world and includes general managers, executives, scouts, coaches, and agents, along with other media.

In addition to owning the NFL Draft Bible, Serritella has also served as executive producer of the T.Ocho Show (2010) on NBC Sports, producer for The Mike & The Mad Dog Show (2002) on YES Network, producer for NFL Now with Mike Francesa, one of the only nationally syndicated NFL shows at that time (2003), producer on ESPN Hollywood (2005) and helped start up the Wall Street Journal YouTube channel (2007).

Other involvements include helping build the fiber-optic system for MLB Network during his time as manager at HTN Communications, writing for USA TODAY and working for CBS. Since 2015, he has served as the Director of Media for the Parabolic Performance NFL Draft Prep program. In 2017, Serritella served as the Director of Player Personnel for the College Gridiron Showcase. A graduate of Johnson & Wales University (JWU) in Providence, RI, Serritella earned a B.A. in Sports Entertainment & Event Management and was honored with the Inaugural Sports Entertainment & Event Management Success Board Achievement Award by the school in 2009. While attending JWU, he interned for the New England Patriots and ESPN X-Games. A proud member of the Pro Football Writers of America and the Football Writers Association of America, Serritella currently resides in his home state of New Jersey.

Mike Stoeber, Jacksonville Jaguars Director of Football Technologies, and SMWW Faculty

Mike is currently the Director of Football Technologies at Jacksonville Jaguars. Mike has a wealth of experience in football with digital video editing. Prior to the Jacksonville Jaguars, he was the Senior Field Support Representative at XOS Digital. Prior to that, he was the Director of Football Operations and Director of Game Analysis at the University of Florida. Mike has a master's degree from the University of Florida in Sports Administration. Mike's career has seen digital video editing grow to what it is today and he knows first hand what a person needs to know to work for an NFL or collegiate team. Due to his relationship with XOS Digital, Mike also knows which teams need assistance in the Video Department and who is doing the hiring. Twitter: @mikestoeber

Herbie Teope, The Kansas City Star Chiefs Lead Beat Reporter

Herbie Teope serves as the lead beat reporter covering the Kansas City Chiefs for The Kansas City Star.

Teope previously covered the New Orleans Saints for The Times-Picayune | The New Orleans Advocate. Before that, he covered the NFL on the national front for NFL.com/NFL Network. He formerly had a first stint reporting on the Saints' beat for The Times-Picayune before joining NFL Media. In the past, Teope covered the Chiefs as a beat reporter for The Topeka Capital-Journal | ChiefsDigest. He also served as a Chiefs correspondent for The Associated Press and Pro Football Weekly, and special contributor to The Kansas City Star's website.

Outside of print, Teope was a sports writer and on-air personality for Time Warner Cable Metro Sports, a regional TV sports network in Kansas City, Mo., where he won a regional Emmy® award in 2009. Before entering the civilian sector in 2006, he enjoyed a 20-year active duty career with the U.S. Army, serving as a drill sergeant, air defense artilleryman and military paralegal.

Teope holds a Bachelor of Science in journalism and mass communications with an outside concentration in psychology from Kansas State University. Twitter: @HerbieTeope

2020 NFL COMBINE Lucas Oil Stadium Thursday Feb. 27th - Sunday, March 1st

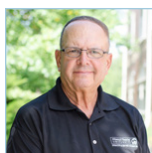

- Check in 30 minutes prior to your ticket time.
- Present your printed ticket with ID when prompted (showing your email/QR code works as well.)
- The Combine personnel request you do not save spots. If you want to sit next to someone, you must enter the arena with them.
- Tickets may be given out in excess by the Combine personnel. If they hit capacity, everyone left will be turned away. With this in mind, please arrive EARLIER than the recommended 30 minutes to secure your spot in line.
- Cell phones, video cameras and other recording devices will NOT be allowed in the arena. If you are caught with one of these devices, you will be escorted out of the arena. *Please note, you can use your phone to check into the arena, and then you will want to turn it off and put away.
- Security Check will be administered, please leave all excess and over sized bags at your hotel. If you need to check out of your hotel, you can leave your bags at the bell hop of your hotel to pick up later in the day.
- This is a serious and stressful day for the athletes, with millions on the line for them. Please respect the rules, players and staff.
- The NFL will not permit cheering, large movements, shouting or any distractions, video or photography. You will be escorted off the premise if security deems necessary.
- On behalf of SMWW, please act appropriately.
- Please email events.combine@NFL.com for any NFL Combine ticket questions.
